

Hopkinsville Kentucky.

TERMINAL TUESDAY AND THURSDAY.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

REPRESENTATIVE FOR A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

Has been elected to represent the people of Hopkinsville in the next session of the Kentucky General Assembly.

On 11 and 12th Streets.

TERMINAL, JULY 19, 1892.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce.

For the office of Circuit Clerk.

For the office of the Probate Judge.

For the office of the Recorder of Deeds.

For the office of the Sheriff.

For the office of the Treasurer.

For the office of the Auditor.

For the office of the Assessor.

For the office of the Surveyor.

For the office of the Engineer.

For the office of the Architect.

For the office of the Physician.

For the office of the Surgeon.

For the office of the Apothecary.

For the office of the Dispensary.

For the office of the Pharmacy.

For the office of the Chemist.

For the office of the Botanist.

For the office of the Zoologist.

For the office of the Geologist.

For the office of the Astronomer.

For the office of the Meteorologist.

For the office of the Hydrographer.

For the office of the Cartographer.

For the office of the Engineer.

For the office of the Architect.

For the office of the Physician.

For the office of the Surgeon.

For the office of the Apothecary.

For the office of the Dispensary.

For the office of the Pharmacy.

For the office of the Chemist.

For the office of the Botanist.

For the office of the Zoologist.

For the office of the Geologist.

For the office of the Astronomer.

For the office of the Meteorologist.

For the office of the Hydrographer.

For the office of the Cartographer.

For the office of the Engineer.

For the office of the Architect.

For the office of the Physician.

For the office of the Surgeon.

For the office of the Apothecary.

For the office of the Dispensary.

For the office of the Pharmacy.

For the office of the Chemist.

For the office of the Botanist.

For the office of the Zoologist.

For the office of the Geologist.

For the office of the Astronomer.

For the office of the Meteorologist.

For the office of the Hydrographer.

For the office of the Cartographer.

For the office of the Engineer.

For the office of the Architect.

For the office of the Physician.

For the office of the Surgeon.

For the office of the Apothecary.

For the office of the Dispensary.

For the office of the Pharmacy.

For the office of the Chemist.

For the office of the Botanist.

For the office of the Zoologist.

For the office of the Geologist.

For the office of the Astronomer.

For the office of the Meteorologist.

For the office of the Hydrographer.

For the office of the Cartographer.

For the office of the Engineer.

For the office of the Architect.

For the office of the Physician.

For the office of the Surgeon.

For the office of the Apothecary.

For the office of the Dispensary.

For the office of the Pharmacy.

For the office of the Chemist.

For the office of the Botanist.

For the office of the Zoologist.

For the office of the Geologist.

For the office of the Astronomer.

For the office of the Meteorologist.

For the office of the Hydrographer.

For the office of the Cartographer.

For the office of the Engineer.

For the office of the Architect.

For the office of the Physician.

For the office of the Surgeon.

The Congressional Outlook.

Contrary to public expectation,

Capt. Ellis has an opponent in his own party in the congressional race.

These uniformly to Capt. Ellis.

His personal reasons for his public record is unassailable—have been unquestionably trying for weeks and it is not out of the question that he will succeed and Judge

Little transfers his candidacy from an office he has filled for twelve years to one held by Capt. Ellis. The fact that Judge Little was brought up by the anybody-to-beat-Elis crowd will not strengthen him over the district, and we fail to see wherein his candidacy can be very formidable.

Judge Little made the mistake of antagonizing the Alliance

Democrats in his opening speech by his unpopularity among the Alliance doctrines, some of which have been adopted by the Third Party. This is the element with which Ellis is especially strong. His whole record has been a battle for the people and particularly the people of his own district. This led him to cast the vote against

Mills which has been most criticized.

The silver issue was brought up by the Speaker and the Alliance became recognized as the candidate of the free silver Democrats. As such Capt. Ellis was brought up, and his justification from the platform of his party in the State, upon which a Governor had just been elected by an increased majority. This may have been a mistake. The party has since taken a more conservative stand on the coinage question, but Capt. Ellis has known that his people were then not unanimously for free silver, whether they have since modified their views or not. He knew that a "very large proportion of his Democratic constituents belong to the Alliance and therefore he has not abused the Alliance. He kept these voters in the Democratic party in 1890 by giving

Donnell and not the Alliance the issue and he can do so again this year by making Pettit the target for his fire and by pointing the Alliance Democrats to his record to prove that he is their friend. If he throws Ellis overboard and brings out a new and untried man who jumps on the very people who would support Ellis, the result will be to drive them to Pettit and thus endanger the success of the Democratic party. As we have repeatedly stated, we believe in the present crisis Capt. Ellis should be given the nomination without a straggle. The nominee has no enemies before him. It is going to be a fierce and furiously contested triangular race and the only hope of the Democratic candidate is to hold the Alliance Democrats to their ticket. Capt.

Ellis has done this once and we know that he can do it again. Then why let him aside to take up a party unknown man, simply to gratify the wisdom of those who have failed to support Capt. Ellis a plant tool for the advancement of their own ends?

We believe such a course is unwise and hazardous in the extreme.

Believing as we do, we shall support Ellis and we call upon thoughtful Democrats to do so. We believe that we will be better off if we consider well before committing themselves against his candidacy. A mistake that may be fatal to the party will be made if we fail to speak out for Ellis at your precinct meetings on July 30th.

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh

Remedy.

LITTLE ANNOUNCES.

The Opponents of Capt. Ellis at

Last Find a Man to Run.

Those unfavorable to Capt. W. T.

Ellis in his own party held a conference at Asheville Saturday, at which four or five men who have declined to enter the Congressional race were present. These gentlemen met by arrangement to decide among themselves which one of them should contest with Capt. Ellis for the nomination. The result was that Judge Lucius P. Little was agreed upon and accordingly announced himself. Judge Little is the present Circuit Judge of the Owensboro district and until quite recently has been a candidate for re-election to that office.

The Owensboro Messenger after describing the fact that Judge Little announced himself went to at least a conference with Capt. Ellis, goes on to say:

"But the unexpected has happened.

Little is a full-plledged candidate and Ellis having announced himself is in the race to stay. To a friend who wrote him several days ago appraising him of Little's prospective candidacy he replied that he had given other opportunities to make the race, and had had only announced himself a candidate because of the pressure of friends in the district; but having declared himself in it he was now in it to stay, and would fight for the nomination, promising any man who opposed him the race of his life.

"A contest between Capt. Ellis and Judge Little will be greatly desired by hundreds of their mutual friends who will feel that their hands are tied and who have grave apprehensions of its effect upon the party. The question among them is not, 'Who will win?' but 'How can we keep down hard feeling?' A general determination is expressed that nothing should be done to disturb party harmony.

"One of Capt. Ellis' very close friends telegraphed him two or three days ago to come home at once and be expected every day.

"The Herald-Journal editorially

comments on the situation as follows:

"As was expected Judge Little, of Owensboro, yesterday at Asheville announced himself a candidate for Congress. Personally the selection of Judge Little would be satisfactory to us. But there is one danger of which we feel our duty to warn. It is that "There is going to be a warm fight next November. Two years ago Capt.

Ellis divided the Alliance and scattered its organization to smithereens upon the very question of Little's contesting the farmer and especially the Alliance man wants it is the free coinage of silver.

"The new time card of the O. V. has been issued and the part of the Greasy and Hopkinsville will be lost effect until Aug. 5. It is as follows:

South Bound Trains.

Mail. Express.

Greenville. 4:15 p.m. 4:50 a.m.

Hopkinsville. 4:25 p.m. 5:00 a.m.

Goodville. 4:35 p.m. 5:10 a.m.

Greenville. 4:45 p.m. 5:20 a.m.

Cobb. 4:55 p.m. 5:30 a.m.

Greenville. 5:05 p.m. 5:40 a.m.

McGowan. 5:15 p.m. 5:50 a.m.

Greenville. 5:25 p.m. 6:00 a.m.

Eransville. 5:35 p.m. 6:10 a.m.

North Bound Trains.

Mail. Express.

Eransville. 10:00 a.m. 8:00 p.m.

Princeton. 6:15 p.m. 3:30 a.m.

McGowan. 6:25 p.m. 3:40 a.m.

Greenville. 6:35 p.m. 3:50 a.m.

Cobb. 6:45 p.m. 4:00 a.m.

Greenville. 6:55 p.m. 4:10 a.m.

Woodville. 7:05 p.m. 4:20 a.m.

W. H. Morgan, M. D., D. D. S.,

Dean of Vanderbilt Medical College, of Nashville, Tenn., says:—The Electro-therapy entirely relieved me of severe rheumatism, enabled me to sleep well and get about without crutches; also cured my wife of rheumatism." Dr.

Morgan is one of the best known doctors in the South.

TODD COUNTY.

Friday, July 9.—Once more the crisis is upon us. This, rainy day, board on all sides when only one week since the same leather legs were prophesying a drought that would overwhelm the growing crops.

While we claim for Trenton and community devotion to God, morality and brotherly feeling one to Hopkinsville Kentucky.

FRIDAY, JULY 15, - 1892.

PERSONAL GOSPEL.

Mr. Thos. W. Long and wife have returned from Dawson.

Miss Josie Spaulding, of Henderson, is the guest of Mrs. T. W. Long.

Miss Topsy Ward is visiting in the Newtown neighborhood.

Mr. J. L. Darg, of Vidalia, La., is visiting relatives in town.

Mr. Henderson Ward is visiting relatives near Cave Spring.

Rev. Lower, of Princeton, is in the city, the guest of Mr. N. Zimmer.

Mr. A. W. Pyle and daughters are visiting relatives in Logan county.

Miss Lizzie Ballard, of Nashville, is in the city on a visit to her mother.

Will Naylor returned last Saturday from the New York Endavor Convention.

Mr. Joe. F. Danforth and wife are visiting relatives near Fairview this week.

Mrs. Nat Galtner has returned from a lengthy visit to relatives in Harrodsburg.

Judges McPherson and McCarron went to the Sebeve picnic and spent Saturday.

Mrs. J. N. Prentiss, of Winchester, is visiting relatives and friends in the country and city.

Mr. George Hall, who has been on a visit to his brother, Mr. Andrew Hall, returned to St. Louis Sunday.

Miss Matt Lander and Grace Turner, of Clarksville, are the guests of their uncle, Dr. J. P. Thomas.

Miss Adeline Long, of Russellville, is visiting Miss Bell Ellis. She will also visit Miss Laura Carter of Ben Lomax.

Mrs. Walker Haynes, of Bowling Green, and Miss Kate Sprague, of Paducah, Mo., are visiting the family of Mr. D. F. Perry.

Miss Kate Perry, of the Casky neighborhood, spent last week in the city with the family of her uncle, Spurgeon Allen, Campbell.

Misses Patty and Bertha Thomas, of Nashville, are enjoying a visit to the family of Mr. Lyman McComb, near Paducah.

Mr. Geo. Campbell, formerly of Brooklyn, N. Y., but now of West Louisville, arrived in the city last week and will take a position with the Hopkinsville Steam Laundry.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the California liquid laxative Syrup of Figs, is attested by the fact that it is their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of "California Fig Syrup Co." printed on the bottom of the package.

We have heard of some complaining from the farmers about wheat sprouting in the shock.

Sam McCormick has recovered from his recent illness and is now again at his post of duty with Bryan & Tandy.

Mr. W. A. Reed, of Casky, took to Mr. M. Grand two feet of young gold, the per bush.

Mr. Walter M. Hicks, of Henderson, is in the city introducing the Ideal Broom and Catnip and improved "Percolator."

Mr. Sam Brown is the owner of a pair of twin calves which he has named Cleve and Steve. This is a unique mark of the fidelity of the Brown family toward Democracy.

The report sent out from Greenville one day last week, to the effect that Mrs. Annie Parke of that place was dead, was an error. She had been quite sick, but is reported much better, and will recover from her illness.

The first station on the O. V. west of Hopkinsville, on the property of Mr. G. H. Moore, has been named Woodville. It will probably have been named "Moore" but for the fact that there is a station of that name on the L. & N. near Guthrie.

Hundreds of people walk down the O. V. every Sunday to "The Three Bridges," at that point is now generally called. Quite a number of ladies and gentlemen go down in the cars, some driving down the track and others on the Princeton road as far as Mrs. Shipley's where they turn down the river.

The visit of Dr. Appelman, the specialist, will be Thursday, July 28, at the Phoenix Hotel. The doctor is fast gaining an enviable reputation for his performing cures of cases that were considered incurable. His new and original treatment for catarrh and diseases of throat and lungs has never failed. He names this disease he treats in his large advertisement in another column.

The Rev. Lowry, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Princeton, preached two powerful sermons in the First Presbyterian church in this last Sunday morning and evening from the texts "Jehovah Only," and "What do ye think of Christ?" Mr. Lowry will be in the city several days in the interest of Princeton Institute, a most excellent school for both sexes, and under control of Louisville Presbytery.

HERE AND THERE.

For bowel trouble take Vidalia.

Stood rimmed specks from $1 up at Yates'. The finest glasses on earth for the money. Fits guaranteed or money refunded.

Dr. A. J. Knapp, the celebrated oculist, will treat Dr. Young's office August 1 and 2.

Nono glass in all styles and shapes at Yates'.

Grape bags for sale in this office, cheap.

Gold specks from $5 up to $15 at T. G. Yates'.

Wheat threshers, see Woodbridge & Co. for cheap cash.

Ducker & Underwood, undertakers, office opposite First National Bank.

A young man, thirty Christian farmers have commenced following for wheat.

Mr. John W. Payne is very ill at the residence of Mr. F. L. Waller on East Seventh street.

Mr. S. R. White will rebuild his store house at Calton at an early date.

Misses White & Kincaid.

Ernest Eliza, a young man 22 years old, killed himself with a pistol in the woods near Henderson. His father committed suicide a few years ago.

El Huser has resigned his position as L. & N. agent at Grassy and the vacancy is being filled by a young man named Williams, formerly agent at Herndon.

Archie Kirksey, well known in this city, was thrown from a switch engine near Memphis one day last week and instantly killed. He leaves a wife and several children.

The Democrats of Calloway county rallied the nomination of Cleveland and Stevenson Saturday. Speeches were made by H. G. J. Barnett, E. C. K. Wheeler, of Paducah, and others. A Democratic flag was hoisted and the occasion proved a regular love feast.

The Republicans of Paducah have been in a convention at Princeton, the city of the city and furnished them for Republican headquarters during the approaching campaign. The rooms will be supplied with all the necessities and periodicals and all white Republicans in the city or visiting it are invited to call.

Invitations are out announcing a picnic to be given at the residence of Mr. W. H. J. Jones, near the river, to-morrow evening. The entertainment is given in honor of Miss Mabel Wood, of Clarksville, who is the guest of Miss Sallie Jones, and will be a very elegant affair. Quite a number from the city will attend.

A convention has been called to meet at Princeton, Sept. 16, to nominate Democratic candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's attorney in the 14th district, composed of Calloway, Calloway, Haynes and Livingston counties. There will be a full list of candidates for both offices.

The Republicans are arranging for a big blow-out at Central City Aug. 23, at which Bradley, Fisher and Seelye are expected to appear. Perhaps these well-informed politicians can explain why it is that workmen are being shot to death in two places and the cause is protesting against having their wages cut down under the McKinley Bill.

Hicks predicts another warm wave. It came Saturday night and continues three days. During this period there will be much wind and thunder, but rainfall will not be abundant. He says the month will end with summer storminess prevailing, and the first days of August will be much cooler in consequence of the storms.

The local option law which has been in effect in Central City for several years has been repealed, and two saloons have opened up already to take the place of the "diger digers" which have been operated boldly along the river.

Other saloons will soon be opened in the place and the natives will not suffer any inconvenience on account of a scarcity of "beers."

Joseph Pope has confessed that he killed Mitchell Lambert in Warren county on the night of July 12 and that it was he who shot the man who was with the murdered boy. Pope claims that the shots were intended to scare Lambert, and that the killing was accidental. All three of the boys were under 21 years of age and all were sons of the same girl, Miss Bandy.

A fine stream of water has just been found at Grassy, at a depth of 20 feet. The stream was located by Mr. A. J. Meacham, the local water witch, who has the reputation of never failing to find water. He uses a forked stick and has convinced the most skeptical disbelievers in his theory that there is really something in it. Mr. Meacham believes so firmly in his ability to locate water, that he is willing to offer his services to well diggers, and will insure a stream in every instance and at a depth. He indicates that any wishing his service should find him at P. F. Mayo's, Grassy, Ky.

Dr. Sargent is to build on the corner of Fifth and Main streets. He sides his own there will be other offices, for rent.

We understand that Cox Bros., the popular tailors and gentry furnishers, will probably greatly enlarge their business and branch out in another direction.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah J. Edwards, who died early last Friday, was conducted by Rev. A. G. Bledsoe at Vaughan's Chapel last Sunday morning.

Mrs. Hiram Sivy and Miss Fannie Vinyard narrowly escaped injury from a young horse which they were driving last Saturday. The horse took a kicking fit, and without regard to the kicking straps, almost completely demolished the buggy.

Blackberries are scarce and high at this season of the year, peaches will not be plentiful, plums are almost a failure, apples are decidedly short, and consequently horse keepers will be hard pressed this year they have probably for several years.

It is said that the Illinois Central Railroad is about to purchase the O. V. We are not surprised to hear this at the Louisville Times stated some time ago that it was highly probable Mr. Huntington would dispose of all his railroad interests except the Southern Pacific.

If a company could be formed with capital enough to purchase the various property of Dr. Gish and the store property of Mrs. Frankel, corner of Main and Ninth streets, and build there a fine hotel, extending from Main street to the O. V. depot, it is generally believed it would pay a handsome dividend to the stockholders.

As yet only about 10,000 bushels of wheat have been delivered on the market this season, the price for the best grade being 67¢. The wet weather has delayed threshing and only a small portion of the crop has been handled. With a week's clearer weather the larger part of the immense crop will be threshed and immediately moved. The quality of that threshed is good and the yield is very large.

Mr. Fred A. Wallis, who went to New York as right hand man of the delegation from this city to the Endavor Convention in New York, returned home last Saturday night. He says the attendance was larger than at any previous gathering of any kind the city has ever known—the Endavorers and others taking advantage of the low rates of travel being estimated by some of the New York papers numbering as high as 40,000.

All of the delegation enjoyed the convention hugely and after its adjournment they began to travel to the different watering places. Last week the delegation enjoyed a picnic at the residence of Mrs. J. A. Arnold and Mattie Young will remain for a while longer.

Miss Mary Bell, Albertine Wallis, Lydia Belle Donaldson and Mr. and Mrs. Vail went to Washington yesterday, where they stay this week and return home Saturday, some of them putting in a day at Louisville. In speaking of the accident to the train of the Kentucky delegation at Chillicothe, Ohio—a very meager account of which was given in the city papers—Mr. Vail says that it was only the hand of Providence that prevented the demolition of the train and preserved the lives of the delegation. He says that he was pulling out of Chillicothe and had just passed the "frog" of the switch when a locomotive standing on a side track, with a full load of coal, came down the track and took off one side of almost every car composing the train. If the train of the Kentucky delegation had been on the track at that time, the result would have been indeed, or if the locomotive, which started down the side track, had been an engine, or anyone else in control, it was a minute or two before the result would have been as terrible as it was. Mr. Vail says that he was in the train when it was jolted by the bell rope and stopped the train, the engineer not knowing until the signal was given that anything had gone wrong. The accident occurred about 10 o'clock at night and many of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the loved ones at home, but their sleep and dreams were unaccountably terminated. The wild locomotive got the worst of the collision, as it had one cylinder knocked entirely off and was thrown from the track where it rested on one side. The Kentucky delegation was in the train at Chillicothe in its elegant but much damaged sleepers, and in the morning left for New York in another train. No one was the least hurt but all were badly scared. There is no explanation given as to how the mad locomotive got a start except that it was in the train, and that it was "something else was wrong with it." The Hopkinsville delegation was visited in New York by a man who was called here in New York in the city. Mr. George Venable, Mr. Venable has left to his old home since he has been to the Southern States. Mr. George Bryan, another Hopkinsville boy, was in New York at the time and was a great help to the delegation in plotting them about the session of the delegation had retired and were dreaming of the

